Statement from Sarah W. Davis
Gulf Coast Visitor Center
Everglades National Park
January 4, 2003

Friday January 2, 2003 I was on the Manatee II giving the narration for the 2:30 boat tour. During the tour I heard Captain Jim over the radio report that the steering had given out on the Manatee I. He reported that everyone was fine and that he needed assistance. All the passengers were transported to another boat. He then reported later that he was able to fix the steering and then headed back. Somewhat later he reported that the steering had given out again and that he would need to be towed back as soon as possible.
