

Figure 2. The Umpqua River entrance. The tip of the arrow shows the approximate position between the number “2” buoy and the south jetty tip where the Sydney Mae was struck by following seas and began sinking.